We are in the midst of the national Week Without Driving, which runs until Oct. 5. This initiative invites everyone to experience, reflect on, and share what life is like without driving.

As an agency dedicated to providing safe, sustainable, and multimodal transportation solutions, this campaign is a valuable opportunity for us to lead by example. We encourage all employees who can participate by exploring alternatives to driving alone.

Week Without Driving is a chance to understand daily life for the millions of people who cannot drive due to age, disability, income, or other barriers. It's an opportunity to tell your story and help reimagine what transportation options could look like in your community. WSDOT offers a range of resources and benefits to support your participation, and now is the perfect time to check out the transportation benefits available to WSDOT employees.

Participating in Week Without Driving not only supports a more accessible transportation system but also contributes to our state's goals for reducing congestion, improving air quality, and enhancing equity across communities.

Ready to Take the Challenge?

Visit Week Without Driving to sign up and learn more about the campaign. We also encourage you to share your experiences on social media using #WeekWithoutDriving.

Thank you for your continued commitment to innovation, equity, access, and sustainability in transportation. If you have questions, email TripReduction@wsdot.wa.gov.
